Principles

The core principles of the Enrolment policy are:

- Every eligible child has the right to be enrolled at a Victorian government school.
 - All students that reside within the area of a designated neighbourhood school (school zone) must be offered a place when seeking enrolment.
 - Students who hold a subclass 500 student visa (a student visa in their own name) may only attend government schools accredited to accept international students.
- Parents/carers have the right to seek enrolment for their child at a Victorian government school of their choice.
 - Designated neighbourhood schools with sufficient accommodation should offer enrolment to students who reside outside of their school zone.

- Schools with special entry criteria (for example, specialist schools) are not designated neighbourhood schools. These schools offer enrolment to students who meet the requirements of their local enrolment policy.
- School enrolment practices must be fair, equitable and comply with state and federal laws.
 - Factors such as ability, history of behaviour, or level of engagement with education are irrelevant for enrolment decisions at designated neighbourhood schools.
 - Schools must ensure enrolment practices do not disadvantage children in out-of-home care, those experiencing homelessness or family violence, recently arrived immigrants or refugees.

Guidelines overview

Schools must follow the mandatory guidelines and advice set out in the Guidance tab. Some chapters are only relevant to particular school types. The chapters cover the following topics.
